JUNE BALL A SMASH HIT!

Choosing is so difficult when everything looks so good! Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holden and other guests ponder over the next choice from the groaning table.

Dr. and Mrs. George Kitchen and their guests of the evening. The elaborate table decorations included floral candelabra.

Mrs. Bruno Skoggard, Mrs. Edward W. Duder and Mrs. Harry Grunwell enjoy cocktails on the quad.

Edward Duder, Michael Levett and Cliff Sawyer hearken to Bruno Skoggard.

This year's June Ball held at the School on June 12th was once again a huge success - a complete sell out, in fact - splendidly organized and carried out by the Ladies' Guild. The weatherman produced a lovely warm evening, complete with stars and moonlight, for the fifth year in a row. The dining hall staff outdid themselves in providing a sumptuous buffet dinner. Stanley St. John produced his own inimitable music right from the dinner hour through till 1 a.m., interspersed, of course, with Pipe Major Ross Stewart's pipes and drums from the 48th Highlanders for the Scottish dancing buffs. The latter seems to grow more popular every year!

Proceeds of the evening were turned over to the S.A.C. Foundation for the scholarship and bursary fund, and some deserving boys will be grateful for the opportunity to attend St. Andrew's as a result. The School greatly appreciates this fine effort by the Guild and all the Parents, Old Boys and friends who attended. Congratulations to Mrs. Gus Boukydis, Mrs. Cliff Sawyer and their Committee for a wonderful party!

Members of the June Ball Committee in the midst of an "invitation addressing bee" at the Headmaster's house. Clockwise from the bottom left are Mrs. W. G. Thom, Mrs. Z. Tyczka, Mrs. John Long, Mrs. Harry Addison, Mrs. B. Skoggard, Mrs. J. L. Shortly, Mrs. W. B. McClintock and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer. Mrs. C. C. G. Boukydis is the Convenor.

Suitably arrayed in S.A.C. colours, a very large stuffed dog (one of the lucky draw prizes) surveys proceedings!!

Scottish influence shows in this group including Ron Kerr, Mrs. Barbara Anderson, George Flower, Ian Kelvey and Mrs. Spencer Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manchec, Mrs. Shaw, Dr. Peter Turner and Mrs. William G. Munro agree the party is off to a good start.

Mrs. John E. Long takes a moment out from her stint selling bar tickets to chat with Mrs. Thomas J. Norris and Mrs. Harry H. Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Little of Richmond Hill pose a question to Association Director Jim Hamilton.

S.A.C. Association

The annual meeting of the S.A.C. Association will be held on Saturday, October 3rd, at 11:00 a.m. in the Kenneth Ketchum Auditorium at the School. There will be an informal luncheon to follow, and the First Football team plays Ridley in the afternoon.

All Old Boys are reminded they are automatically members of the Association and we hope they will take this occasion to bring their wives (and children too, if they wish) to see their old school. Mothers and fathers of students and former students are also members and we urge as many as possible to be on hand. A notice with full details will go out to everyone shortly.

The nominating committee has nominated the following for election to the Council of the Association for the year 1970-71

To quote from the Constitution of the Association, Article 8, paragraph 3 reads as follows:

"Any member of the Association, other than those recommended by the Nominating Committee, may stand for election to the Council at the Annual Meeting provided that the nomination of such member, moved and seconded by two other members of the Association is in the hands of the Secretary at least 10 days prior to the date set for the Annual meeting."

Golf Tournament

A small but enthusiastic group of members turned out on Wed., August 19 for the Association golf tournament. The weatherman had to turn up the only wet morning for the occasion in an otherwise glorious August, and this deterred a few faint hearted individuals. However by teeing-off time the rain had stopped and never returned.

The calibre of golf was surprisingly good - only two scores over 100 - and competition for the low gross and net trophies was keen. Parent George Sara took low gross honours with a fine 77, but only by one stroke margin. Low net went to John Ferguson '59. Other prize winners were Bill Boothe '65, second low gross; John Legate '60, second low net; Bill Lawrence '49, most honest golfer (very fitting for a lawyer!); Peter Rea '35, Jim Hamilton '33, Geoff Love '69 and Bill Adams '35. Others were fortunate in the Lucky Draw so that most went home with something.

Some good golf with congenial companions on a course in perfect condition, followed by an excellent dinner made the Toronto Hunt an ideal setting for the affair, which we hope to repeat next year with a larger entry.

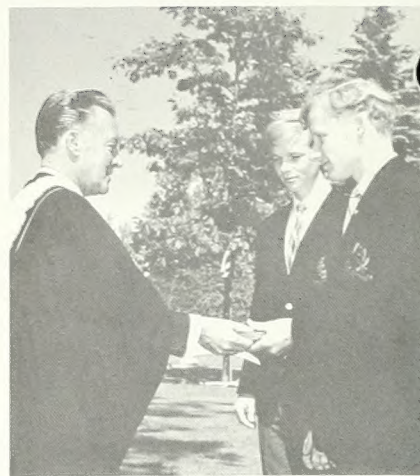

S.A.C. Review

Since production costs have increased steadily over the past few years and mailing charges more than tripled (from 12 cents to 39 cents) under new rates announced last year, a decision has regrettably been made that distribution of the School year book, the Review, must be curtailed. Starting with the 1970 edition the Review will be sent only to Old Boys who have left the School in the previous five years, in addition to present students of course. Formerly the Review was sent annually to those who requested it in reply to a questionnaire sent some years ago. We hope the new policy will not be received too adversely, however, since the Andrean has been published more frequently in recent years and contains more news of the School. For most people we are confident that it will suffice to keep them in touch. There will be a few extra copies of the Review available for special requests at nominal cost, probably about $5.

Judo Enthusiasm

The School has been fortunate this year in having Danny Yu, UVI student, to instruct in Judo.

As well as influencing a number of boys to take part in this activity he has stimulated three St. Andrew's Masters to join a local club in Ballantrae. This club "Ho Tai" has affiliated the School and has given Danny Yu the power to grant the first colour belt to worthy members of the School. As a result three boys, Jim Balfour, Ascot Chang and Mike Millar, have been presented with their "yellow" belt. Two other members, Bruce Claridge and Geza von Diergardt recently won their second colour, the "orange" belt, in a judo tournament held at our parent club "Ho Tai". One other interesting result of this tournament was that a trophy presented by the students of St. Andrew's College for the most sportsmanlike member was presented to Leslie Harrison, the young daughter of Ted Harrison of our French Dept.

Mr. Coulter presents the Headmaster's medals to Norman Wilkie and Blair Christie.

Mrs. Richard L. Read presents the Lawrence Crowe Trophy and the 48th Highlanders' Chapter, I.O.D.E. Rifle for top performance in shooting to Robin Wilkie.

John Currie, Chairman of the student Public Service Committee, hands over a cheque for the proceeds of Variety Night to Mr. Simpson of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

Dr. Guthrie Grant, son of the late Mrs. Edith Grant, presents to C. J. McTavish the trophy awarded in memory of Mrs. Grant to the new boy in Macdonald House who has shown the greatest improvement towards becoming the ideal Andrean. Many hundreds of Old Boys will remember Mrs. Grant during her years as nurse and matron in Macdonald House.

PRIZE DAY 1970

One of the most pleasant days in the school year at St. Andrew's is the annual Prize Day, the day when the entire School, parents, friends and not a few Old Boys gather to honour the graduates and other students who have distinguished themselves during the year. It is a nostalgic day, too, for those who are leaving and realize that their sojourn at St. Andrew's is about to end. The setting on the quad is perfect for reminiscences, with the trees in full leaf, the grass shimmering in the sunlight, and the organ music drifting out from the Chapel.

Ceremonies commenced promptly at 3 pm. with the procession of Governors distinguished guests and the staff from Dunlap Hall to the dais on the quad. Dr. John Wilkie, former Chaplain of the School, led the audience in prayers, followed by the singing of one of the School hymns and reading of the 121st Psalm. The Headmaster reported on the highlights of the year, then came the presentation of prizes. Mr. J. K. Macdonald, Chairman of the Board of Governors, gave the address, which follows:

Mr. Headmaster, members of the Board, boys of St. Andrew's, parents, and guests of the School, it is indeed hard to realize that eleven years have gone by since I had the honour and pleasure to speak to you on Prize Day.

The world we live in has become more complicated than ever before. With the advances of modern technology we are exposed to radio and television with their ability to instantly involve us in actions taking place throughout the world and we are generally apt to forget that we are not seeing or hearing the whole event but only that part that the news media generally thinks is sensational. In other words, we are exposed to a distorted view, in many cases, of world happenings whether at home or abroad.

Our reactions and impressions are therefore formulated on only partial truths. It is a very frightening situation and one we must constantly guard ourselves against.

It is therefore a much more difficult and complex world that you boys in particular are facing to-day.

I am more than ever convinced that schools such as ours are more than ever necessary in preparing our boys for the future.

It would seem to be particularly appropriate that my remarks to-day should be especially to the boys, and I am sure that you as parents and friends will appreciate this fact. To-day marks the recognition of your individual achievements particularly in the academic side, with special recognition of those who have contributed in an outstanding way to the overall life of the school during the year. Throughout the year, of course, each and every one of you boys has participated on teams, in chapel services, in literary activities, in our fine cadet corps, and so on. Thus all of you are being recognized.

I do not imagine that during this past year all of you have had the opportunity or the inclination to sit back and consider just why you are at St. Andrew's College and what advantages you have gained. In other words, just what has an independent school to offer you for your development and for your preparation for the future that the ordinary day school cannot give you?

Highlight of the proceedings was the surprise presentation by the students of his Doctoral robes to a delighted Dr. Anthony Dawson. Helping him don the robes are Charles Edwards and Norman Wilkie. Dr. Dawson is Director of Music at St. Andrew's and was awarded his Doctorate in music this year.

Frankly, these are some of the points that your parents must have considered most seriously before deciding to separate you from home and themselves and send you here.

There are, of course, two overall responsibilities here at St. Andrew's. The responsibility of the school to you boys and equally important, the responsibility of you boys to your school.

Without boys there would be no St. Andrew's College and therefore you are the most important part of the school.

Here at Aurora we have one of the finest settings of any school in Canada and your Board of Governors is always conscious of the necessity that it be well maintained. It is the duty of the Board to attract to the School a staff that is competent, efficient, and dedicated to the responsibility of giving you the very best of intellectual, spiritual, and physical guidance. I believe that we have at the School to-day an excellent staff that is most desirous and capable of giving you the very best of all-round training. However, unless you are willing to co-operate and to enter into the interest and the spirit of the School, their efforts will be of no avail.

It is also the responsibility of the Board of Governors to provide the most up-to-date teaching facilities to keep abreast - or, if possible, - ahead of the new approaches to teaching. Hence the decision to build the new science building, addition to the library, and the modernization of other facilities.

We will always need new facilities and with the help of old boys, parents, and friends of the school, I trust we shall be able to continue to provide them.

Here I hope you have learned many things. But some of them are very definitely more important than others. I hope you have realized the value of discipline. That there is the need to appreciate the thoughts of and have consideration for others. Also, the value of being a member of a team, of assisting in an overall project such as the winning of a football game, for instance, or the completion of any other type of group project. That there is a greater sense of satisfaction in feeling that you have been a participant in an achievement rather than an individual who has achieved something at the expense of others with no regard for their feelings or their own progress. I hope that you have learned that it is of great value to have a broad knowledge and an understanding of things in general rather than just of one two pet hobbies or pet subjects. I hope also that you have learned tolerance of others, that everyone of us has weaknesses of some sort and that it is all right, in good fun, to laugh at somebody else's misfortune but always with the thought in mind that perhaps you will be the one laughed at the next time. Unless you have the desire and the willingness to learn and to find out for yourself and study for yourself, you will have a most difficult time in taking your rightful place in the world outside, when you leave St. Andrew's College.

I can tell by the look on some of your faces that you are saying to yourselves, - "There's the Old Boy philosophizing again". I can assure you the "Old Boy" had to learn all this the hard way himself, and if you cannot learn by the mistakes and trials and tribulations of others as well as by your own, then you had just better stay in a corner and not even come out for breakfast.

If you have opened your minds and thoughts to enable you to accomplish these "hopes" I have just talked about, then you have carried out your responsibility to your school.

Therefore, in summing up, what is the justification for an independent boy's boarding school? We believe that with physical and educational surroundings such as these, with the opportunity of learning to live with others, and with masters capable of providing the guidance, both mentally, physically, and spiritually for the full development of a boy, that St. Andrew's can provide an unusual and worthwhile opportunity for a boy to become equipped to step forward into the future and to take his proper place in the guidance, leadership, and development of our country.

May I give you older people a few thoughts that are in my mind. Some of us seem to care more about what is on our young peoples' heads than what is in them. Our concern often is with appearances rather than with persons.

In an age of supposed unbeliefs, people are yearning for something in which to believe, not just money or beautiful homes. We should believe in people and in one another.

It is no longer a strength to have one's mind solidly "made up", for so often too many of us are quick to react to something which we find foreign or strange and condemn those who believe us wrong. Let us make sure we know both sides before we make a decision. We need a belief and trust in one another - young with old, and old with young.

Happiness in life can really be found in hard work and belief in ourselves.

I still think most want a leader to say "no" but they want and deserve a truly logical reason for the "no".

So many make life one sided. They say - "you've got to understand me but I don't have to understand you". That goes for both young and old.

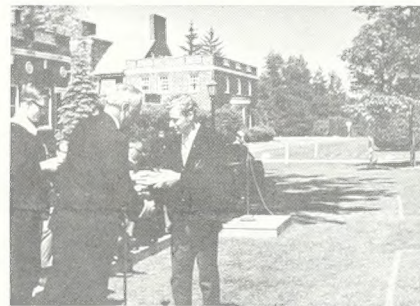

We hear so much of cries of "down with people". How about a new thought - "up with people"? Let us oldsters lead the way with that slogan. Sure we have problems, many of them serious, too. But by getting together, old and young, with a willingness to listen and to learn on the part of both, maybe we can solve at least some of them.

I do not believe I have been moralizing. I have just been thinking out loud.

I am hopeful that in the future I shall be able to see some of you boys who are sitting here as present students of the School, as members of the Board. By that time I shall be merely a wheelchair onlooker still interested in the activities of the School.

I would indeed be most remiss, and I am sure that you boys would not forgive me, if I did not pay tribute to our most active and enthusiastic Ladies' Guild composed of the mothers of the boys who have been, or are now, at the School. They have contributed greatly over the years to the benefit of St. Andrew's, to the comfort of you boys, and have provided many of those things that we as mere men and members of the Board probably would not have thought of. We members of the Board do hope and pray that you ladies will continue your interest and activities for the betterment of the School.

In closing, may I wish to all of you boys a happy holiday and to those of you who are not returning to Aurora, continued success and happiness in your new adventure. I do hope that you will always retain a fondness and a responsibility for St. Andrew's College and remember that your interest and return here on the occasional visit is of tremendous importance, not only to your headmaster and to the staff, but also to the boys who will be following in your footsteps.

Blair Christie receives some of his awards from Mr. T. George Armstrong, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors, assisted by Mr. G. R. Smith. Christie was awarded the Macdonald Medal as the boy most distinguished in studies and athletics taken together; the Governor General's Medal for the highest standing in Upper Sixth form; the Laidlaw Trophy awarded to the boy in Upper Sixth who has won for his clan the greatest number of points during his last two years at the School; the Lieutenant Governor's Silver Medal and the Headmaster's Medal.

- '10 NEIL C. FERGUSON on July 1st, 1970 at Toronto.

Lawren Stewart Harris, LL.D., C.C.

One of the original students enrolled in St. Andrew's when it was founded in 1899, Lawren Harris passed away at Vancouver on January 29, 1970. He achieved great distinction as an artist, being one of the original Group of Seven who brought world wide acclaim for Canadian art during the last 50 years. Born in 1885 in Brantford, his family later moved to Toronto and he attended St. Andrew's College from 1899 until 1903. In a letter to the Andean a few months ago, reminiscing of the early days at the School, one of his contemporaries remarked "even in those days Lawren Harris' exercise books were filled with drawings and sketches".

After a year at the University of Toronto, he studied art in Berlin and visited France, Italy and the Orient. In 1910 he returned to Toronto, joined the Ontario Society of Artists in 1911 and in 1913 planned and helped to finance the Studio Building there. He was first president of the Canadian Group of Painters in 1933 and president, Federation of Canadian Artists, 1944-47. In 1942 he took up residence in Vancouver where he lectured at the School of Art.

Originally a landscapist, Mr. Harris turned in later years to non-objective compositions. Several of his paintings hang in the National Gallery in Ottawa and many more in the McMichael Collection at Kleinberg, Ontario.

Regretfully the only original painting of his in possession of the School is the portrait of Dr. D. Bruce Macdonald, Headmaster 1900-1935, which hangs in the Library. It was painted by Mr. Harris in 1925.
